ROTC Plans Program Shift; Could Start in Fall of '63

Plans for a revised, shortened version of the present Air Force ROTC program have been discussed Monday by Omaha University heads and military members associated with the program.

A two-year cut will be made in the program, Colonel William C. Lindley, Commandant of Air Force ROTC units, explained during a visit to the campus.

He expressed a need for more science and engineering career men in the Air Force. "Our present program doesn't bring enough of these types into the service," he said.

Too Few Remain

Lt. Col. Shirl H. Swenson, O.U. Professor of Air Science, pointed out that, although the ROTC program has the same retention of graduated officers as the Air Force Academy, too few are remaining in the service after four years.

Under the new system students will attend military classes only three hours a semester during their final two years as opposed to five hours for four years under the present plan.

"And the emphasis in the new system will be less on rules and regulations and more towards the history and background of the service," Col. Swenson said.

More Time to Study

Students will have more time for regular study, a must in today's technical courses he added.

Present hopes for the start of the program are for the 1963 fall semester pending passage of the bill by Congress.

The University was given the choice of the new plan or a slightly modified version of the old. O.U. President, Dr. Milo Bail elected to join other schools in enrolling an anticipated sixty thousand students nationwide. Of this number five thousand are expected to complete the program and accept commissions in the Air Force.

Only 10-15 Commissioned

"Of about 550 starting freshmen each year, only ten to fifteen are receiving commissions under our present plan. The yield is too low in proportion to the cost of the program," Col. Swenson said.

He emphasized that students enrolled in ROTC will "be given top priority in applications and scheduling."

The system of conferring commissions at the University upon graduation will be eliminated. This will be done after completion of a six-week officer training program on-base following graduation.

This will be the new officers second brush with the military prior to graduation. He will also attend an on-base session between his sophomore and junior years, Col. Swenson added.

Ticket Sales Soar Best Since 1955

Athletic ticket sales are way above last year's.

The total gate take last year was $6,400. According to Ivan Christensen, business manager for the University, said that sales so far this year totaled $9,000. According to Mr. Christensen this is the best sales campaign since 1955.

Official Notices

The organization for the American Institute of Industrial Engineers (AIIE) will hold its first meeting next Wednesday, Sept. 26, at 3:30 in Room 301 of the Student Center.

All engineering students interested in becoming a chartered member are urged to attend.

Any student applying for admission to the medical or dental college must pick up their applications in Room 435 of Administration Building by Sept. 28.

Deadline for the receipt of these applications is Oct 5.

The Newman Club will hold its first meeting in St. Margaret Mary's Church Hall on Sunday, Sept. 23, at 6:30. The entrance to the hall is on the west side of the Church.

The Newman Club is for all Catholic students attending the University of Omaha. All Catholics are invited and encouraged to attend the meetings and social activities during the year.

The Canterbury Club an Episcopalian Youth Organization will host a spaghetti dinner Sunday, Sept. 23, at 6 p.m. The dinner will be held in the Parish House at Trinity Cathedral, 18th and Capitol. Dinner is 25 cents.

Sharpe, Staff Cited by Bail; Pilot Run 'Tremendous Job'

Early indications were that enrollment would be "up seven or eight per cent" over the fall term a year ago, he said.

Apparently the reason for the unexpected increase, Dr. Bail said, is that a larger percentage of graduating high school seniors are going to college. There were about the same number of students who were graduated from Omaha high schools this year as in 1961.

Complete enrollment figures probably won't be available until next week when all class cards are turned in and have been run through the data processing machines, he said.

500 Unexpected

Dr. Bail said there were some unexpected 500 new students, including 100 who transferred from other schools. Usually Omaha U receives about 65 transfer students at the beginning of fall terms.

He praised Registrar Virgil Sharpe "and the data processing people" for the way they handled registration.

"I thought Mr. Sharpe and his staff did a wonderful job," he said.

"Some people had to stand in a line a long time," he said, "but they were being registered at the rate of 50 per hour."

"A tremendous job," he said.

IBM Gets Full Use

Mr. Sharpe said the registration went smoothly, considering this was the first time the IBM machines were in full use.

"This was our pilot run or shake-down cruise. We expected to have some difficulties, but we should have the bugs worked out soon," he said.

Dr. Bail said he noted a number of small children clinging to parents who were registering.

"Next year we may provide a nursery or babysitting room," he said.

New Faculty Members Join Omaha U Staff

Food Facility Grows; Feeds The Hungry

The opening day of classes at the University of Omaha showed an increase of 315 students served by the Student Center cafeterias as compared to the opening day of 1961.

Mrs. L. C. Graham, Director of Food Services, said that a total of 3,834 were served on opening day September 17 as against 3,519 served on the first day of classes in 1961.

Mrs. Graham said that difficulties were encountered during the first day. She said three new persons had been hired as full-time employees and the process of training these new staff members had caused some difficulties in the service.

For a time there was a shortage of food on the counters.

In addition to the new employees, Mrs. Graham said eight new vending machines are being added to the cafeteria food service. They will be located in the new and soon-to-be-completed bowling area addition in the Student Center.

Included will be two machines for cold foods such as salads, cakes, pies, and fresh fruits; two machines to dispense hot drinks including hot soup, coffee, and tea; two cold drinks machines; one automatic dispenser for ice cream novelties; frozen malts, and sundaes; and one new cigarette machine.

New Student Day 'Best Ever'

Approximately 1,400 freshmen attended Freshman Orientation Day, sponsored by the Student Council in cooperation with the Dean of Students office, Sept. 12.

Activities began at 9 a.m. when students met with Milo Bail, president of the University; Donald Pflasterer, Dean of Students; and the Deans of the various colleges.

Upperclassmen, serving as hosts and hostesses, gave freshmen a student's view of campus life and helped to coordinate their activities for the remainder of the day.

P.E., Special Session

In the afternoon, the students listened to representatives from both the Women's and Men's Physical Education Departments speak on the various activities open to them. They also attended three special interest sessions on various University organizations and honoraries.

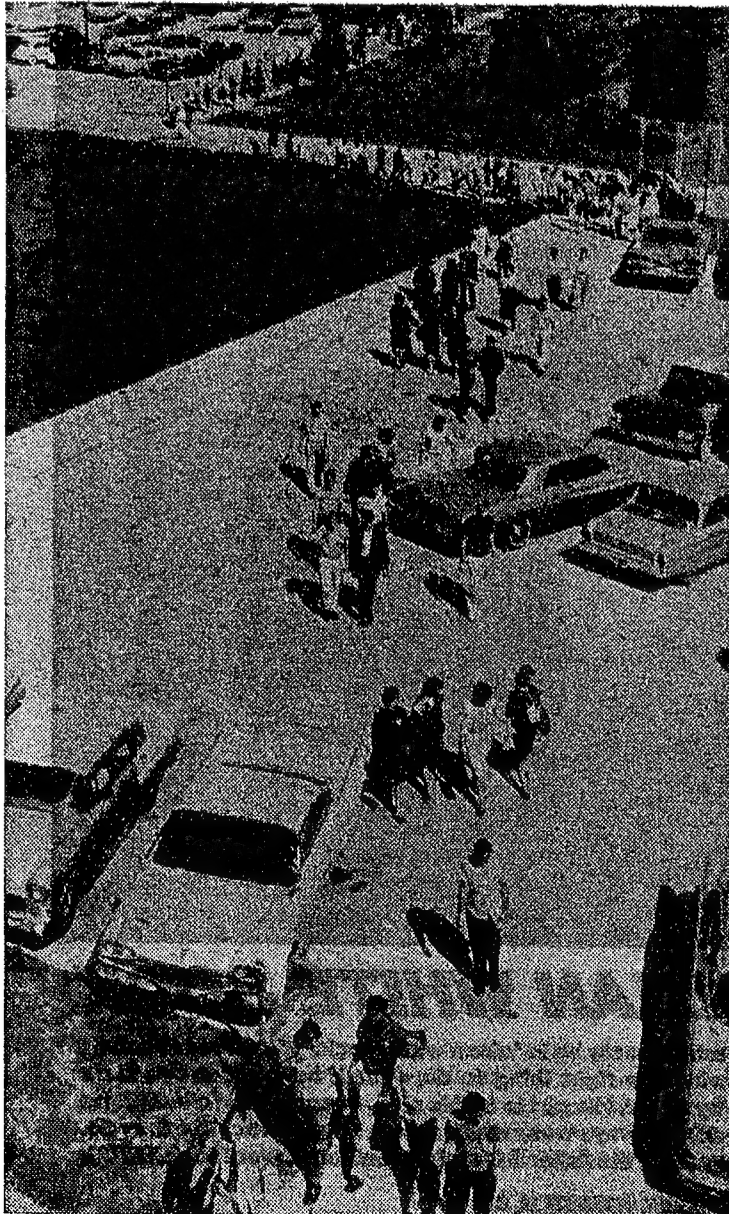

Dean Pflasterer reported, "The entire day functioned smoothly due to well-organization, under the leadership of Student Council President Jim Leslie, and the selection of personnel to speak and serve as hosts and hostesses was excellent."

He added that the only problem was the congestion in the cafeteria during the lunch periods and hoped that in the future, both the cafeteria and Ouampi Room will serve the new students.

Ball Sums Up

President Bail summed up the sentiments of Dean Pflasterer saying Leslie and his committee did the best job that has ever been done. He added that this was the best Freshman Orientation Day that we have ever had.

Dr. Gayle Olson said that each and every one of the some 70 people on the committee, the speakers and the group leaders should be applauded for the tremendous job that was done.

A portion of the some 1,400 new students make their way into the Applied Arts Building. The new students were given a tour of the campus and heard numerous speeches by the faculty and upperclassmen during the New Student Day. The arrangements for the day were made by Student Council President Jim Leslie and according to President Bail this was "the best New Student Day ever."

Students Must Meet Grade Points Set by the University

When a student enrolls in the University he expected to meet and keep an academic standing that has been set up by the University.

If the student fails to meet the scholastic requirements, this case will be considered by the Committee on Academic Standing and he will be placed on academic probation by action of the committee.

A student is subject to probation of he is a:

FRESHMAN, and any semester average falls below 1.2 or the cumulative average falls below 1.5 at the time he has earned 12-26 hours of credit.

SPECIAL, and any semester average or the cumulative average falls below that required of a regular student with equivalent credit hours.

If a student is placed on probation by the committee, he is required to earn the minimum semester quality point average or raise his cumulative quality point average to the required minimum for his academic classification.

A student placed on probation because of incompletes may be restored to good standing on completion of the incompletes work; provided all other academic requirements are met.

Failure to meet the requirements for restoration to good standing after one semester on probation will result in either an extension of the probation period or suspension from the University.

A student of academic probation may not participate in any form of organized extra-curricular activity, including any form of intercollegiate competition or public appearance, except those activities in which public appearance is essential to the earning of credit.

This exclusion from extra-curricular activities for academic reasons is enforced not as a punishment; it is to give the student time to restore himself to good standing.

Reviews And Previews

By Tom Ash

Quite a few people have expressed disappointment over Omaha U.'s showing in the first football game of the season against Morningside last Saturday night.

Coach Al Caniglia said he wasn't the least bit disappointed and pointed out several reasons why. First, the game was played under NCAA substitution rules which stress two-way play. OU normally plays under the NAIA rules which allow unlimited substitution. One of the Indians' strong points is the use of the two platoon system.

No Spring Practice

Also the Central Intercollegiate Conference, of which OU is a member, outlawed spring practice. Caniglia said this hurt the rookies trying to adapt to the OU style. Morningside, on the other hand, held spring practice; so fall camp was devoted to ironing out the rough spots.

Other contributing factors were: the only scheduled game-condition scrimmage was called off because of rain, and the fact that there were only 16 days practice before the opening game.

Caniglia said the Morningside game was a typical opening game, complete with missed assignments and fumbles.

—Whether the critics were satisfied or not, the team's record is one-and-nothing, and that's a step in the right direction. The score may as well have been 50-0.

Highlights

While most of the Morningside game was comparatively dull, the Indians showed flashes of what can be expected when they shift into high gear. Louie Miloni's 62-yard touchdown dash on the first play of the game was a good way to start the little guy's fourth season at halfback. Jim Kettle's catch of the winning touchdown pass from Carl Meyers marked what could be the start of a great comeback for the big end from Mountain Lakes, New Jersey. Two years ago Kettle was named the outstanding rookie, but he sat out last season with an injury. And rookie fullback Jerry Allen showed that he is out for Wayne Backes' job. Allen came in in the fourth quarter and sparked the Indian comeback.

Next

Tomorrow's game against Colorado State is a question mark. The Greeley crew has only five letterman returning, and only three of these are starters from last year.

But coach Joe Lindahl is taking the David and Goliath attitude. And it seems to work. Last week, the Bears upended South Dakota University, 35-26.

The CSC attack revolves around senior quarterback Tom Carlson, a two-letter winner from Holdrege, Nebraska. Carlson was a standout here last year as OU whipped the Bears 27-6.

Although, the Colorado team is inexperienced, they gained several transfers who are filling key spots.

This is a building year at Greeley, but there is sufficient potential to make tomorrow's game rather interesting.

Cross Country

All men interested in cross country are encouraged to attend a special meeting at 2:30, September 24, in the field house.

Coach Lloyd Cardwell said he plans to schedule meets if he has enough men willing to work for a good team.

Men's, Women's Intramurals Getting Ready for Fall Season

The first scheduling of the '62 O.U. Intramural Archery Tournament is set for Oct. 12 at 3:15 p.m. on the football field. All teams interested in receiving Intramural points are asked to send two representatives to shoot in the tournament on Oct. 12. Four tournaments have been scheduled:

Oct. 12	Nov. 2
Oct. 26	Nov. 9

A fraternity may send a maximum of three members to represent that fraternity. The top two scores of these representatives will determine the team score for each tournament. To qualify for the Intramural Archery trophy, three of the four tournaments must be participated in.

Anyone interested in shooting in these tournaments are invited to attend. A trophy will also be awarded to the individual with the highest aggregate score for three tournaments. Equipment will be provided for those not having their own. For further information contact Mr. Bert Kurth, Rm. 250A of the Student Center. Entry deadline is Oct. 8.

Football and Bowling

On Fri., Sept. 21 there will be an organizational meeting of all team managers and athletic officers of all teams planning on participating in Intramural Flag Football and Bowling at 1:30 p.m. in Rm. 301 of the Student Center.

Mr. Kurth plans to start Flag Football on Monday, Sept. 24

OU Plays CSC Next, Nips Chiefs in Season Opener

Omaha University journeys to Greeley, Colorado tomorrow to take on the Colorado State Bears.

The Indians triumphed at Omaha last year in the rain by 27-6. Roger Sayers ran 89 yards with a punt to break the backs of the Coloradans.

Colorado State opened its season last Saturday with a come from behind 35-26 victory over the University of South Dakota at Sioux Falls.

The Bears suffered through a 1-9 season last year, their only win coming at the hands of South Dakota, 16-14.

Omaha holds a 2-1 edge in the series which began in 1957.

Morningside Results

Omaha U's Indians finally came to life in the fourth quarter and showed fans some of the explosiveness that marked their winning season last year as they nipped Morningside 18-13 in the season opener Saturday night.

A 39-yard pass from Carl Meyers to end Jim Kettle gave the Omahans their winning touchdown with 11 minutes left in the fourth period.

The pass was tipped into the air by a Maroon Chief defender and fell into the waiting arms of Kettle who scampered 20 yards for the score unpursued.

Up to that point it had been an uphill struggle for the Indians who had beaten the Chiefs 32-6 last year.

Omaha started fast with Louie Miloni going 62 yards to score on the first play of the game. Morningside then proceeded to bottle up Roger Sayers and foil Meyers' passing game while turning an interception into a 73-yard tying TD.

In the third period Morningside came right back to score on a sustained drive to go ahead 13-6. The stunned Indians retaliated with a drive of their own climaxed by Meyers scoring from the two.

The score remained that way and it looked as if the Maroons might have themselves an upset until the Meyers to Kettle pass in the dying moments.

Louie Miloni paced the Indian ground attack with 119 yards in 9 attempts while Roger Sayers, last year's leader chalked up only 46, a far cry from the 150 he garnered against the Chiefs last year.

The University has announced that all O.U. football games played on the road will be broadcast by radio station WOW. No home games will be broadcast.
